

From Bar to Box

Swagelok builds optimum safety and quality into every step of its manufacturing process – so that our products always deliver unparalleled leak-tight performance and overall economy in even your most challenging applications and operating environments.

Swagelok is exceptionally deliberate with its capital equipment investments – and even more vigilant to ensure that the associates who operate such machinery have the leading-edge training to stay safe with the required know-how to optimize our output, with minimal errors. Our highly skilled shop-floor employees are regularly and rigorously trained to help us achieve our company goal of Zero Customer Disappointments.

WHY you can count on Swagelok quality and dependability, each and every use:

- We forge, machine, electropolish, weld, assemble, and test in only our facilities
- We employ only optimized top-of-line tools and machining methods across global production
- Our robust Reliability Excellence program keeps equipment running at maximum efficiency

In addition, raw material traceability is a critical and integral part of the Swagelok Quality System: material receipt, manufacturing, processing, storage, and delivery. We can even track what lot of material makes up a part and precisely which components are in an assembly.

And just as strong as our products: the Swagelok Limited Lifetime Warranty, for 75 years, a promise that extends throughout the life of every Swagelok product. We stand proudly behind everything we make...continually finding new and better ways to help keep you safe, productive, and profitable.
